MISSOULA--

A free public forum on food and hunger will be presented at noon Wednesday, Nov. 16, in the University Center Mall at the University of Montana.

The forum will be cosponsored by the Programming office of the Associated Students of UM and the "Fast For A World Harvest Committee."

Speakers will include Dr. Peter Koehn, assistant professor of political science at UM, who will discuss "Current Issues on Hunger," and Kim Williams, Missoula, who will discuss "Eating Lower on the Food Chain." Another speaker, Patrick Todd, will discuss "Hunger in Missoula."

Wednesday's discussion is in conjunction with the nationwide "Fast For A World Harvest" scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 17.

The Rev. Gayle L. Sandholm, United Methodist campus pastor at UM, is coordinator of the forum on Wednesday.

Sandholm said local residents may participate in the fourth annual "Fast For A World Harvest" Thursday. In Missoula, half the funds raised will be donated to Oxfam-America and the other half will go to the Missoula Poverello Center. Oxfam-America is sponsoring the nationwide fast.

According to Sandholm, the Poverello Center is serving about 75 hot lunches daily to needy persons. The center also offers clothing, food boxes and referral assistance.
